BSD Events taking place through September 2020

BY ANNE DICKISON AND DRU LAVIGNE

Due to COVID-19, several annual conferences have been canceled or moved to a virtual format. Refer to each conference's website for the latest information. The Events page of the FreeBSD website contains information about new online events, such as the FreeBSD Office Hours.

BSDCan • June 3-6 • Virtual

<https://www.bsdcan.org/2020/>

This year, the 17th annual BSDCan will take place virtually. BSDCan hosts talks and tutorials on a range of topics based around the BSD family of operating systems.

Open Source Summit North America • June 29 -July 2 • Virtual

<https://events.linuxfoundation.org/open-source-summit-north-america/>

Open Source Summit is the leading conference for developers, architects and other technologists—as well as open source community and industry leaders—to collaborate, share information, learn about the latest technologies and gain a competitive advantage by using innovative open solutions.

EuroBSDCon • September 17-20 • Virtual

<https://2020.eurobsdcon.org/>

EuroBSDcon is the European annual technical conference gathering users and developers working on and with 4.4BSD (Berkeley Software Distribution) based operating systems family and related projects.
