Thank You to the Community

Welcome to the March/April issue of the FreeBSD Journal. On behalf of the Foundation, I wanted to take a minute to thank everyone for continuing to support FreeBSD during this challenging time. When recruiting folks to join the Project, we always talk about the community and how kind, generous, and welcoming it can be. This crisis has shown me that truer words were never spoken. From supporting other developers in need, to creating new methods of engagement to fill the void left by the end of in-person events, the FreeBSD community has gone above and beyond to help its fellow community members.

The Foundation is also committed to continuing to support the FreeBSD Project and community. In addition to publishing the Journal, we are increasing funding for development projects, working on new methods for online advocacy and continuing our company outreach. To find out more about these projects, please take a look at the Foundation's Q1 2020 Status Report and our March/April Newsletter.

We also want to thank the Journal authors, editorial board, and publishers for their hard work in getting this issue out during an unpredictable time.

Finally, I want to wish everyone good health for you and your loved ones. Thank you again for your ongoing support. We'll be here continuing to make big strides to improving FreeBSD and supporting the growing community.

We hope you enjoy the issue!

Deb Goodkin
